The University Library offers a user education programme open to all its readers. This includes sessions on the basic use of the Library and on its online catalogue Newton, as well as talks on subject specific resources, electronic resources and demonstrations of datasets.

Full details are available on the Library's website at <http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/Courses/> and on posters in the Library and distributed throughout the University.

Enquiries about the programme may be addressed to the Reference Department of the University Library (tel. 01223 333016/333066, e-mail user-education@lib.cam.ac.uk).
