Office of Vice-Chancellor: Open consultation on priorities and attributes

21 January 2022

Further to the Council's Notice of 15 December (Reporter, 6641, 2021–22, p. 180), the Advisory Committee now provides more details of the consultation, which is open to all members of the collegiate University, on the strategic priorities for, and attributes of, the next Vice-Chancellor.

The consultation comprises three town hall meetings conducted online, on 31 January, 1 February and 3 February 2022, and an online survey. Details of the meetings and how to register, and a link to the online survey, will be circulated to members of the University and the Colleges by email and by other means for those who do not have easy access to email. Although members of the University and the Colleges are encouraged to contribute their views to the consultation through the town hall meetings and survey, comments may also be submitted in writing to vc-search-consultation@admin.cam.ac.uk until 5 p.m. on 9 February, if that is preferred.

The feedback received from the consultation will inform the Advisory Committee's deliberations, helping it to shape its search for the next Vice-Chancellor. It is anticipated that the Advisory Committee will report back to the Regent House later in the Lent Term 2022.

Office of Vice-Chancellor: Advisory Committee membership

24 January 2022

The Council has received notice of a change to the membership of the Advisory Committee supporting the search for the next Vice-Chancellor. Professor Bhaskar Vira was appointed to the Advisory Committee in October 2021 (Reporter, 2021–22; 6634, p. 77; the final member was appointed in November: 6636, p. 109). However, following his appointment in December 2021 as Pro-Vice-Chancellor for Education from 1 October 2022 (Reporter, 6641, 2021–22, p. 182), Professor Vira has decided to step down from the Advisory Committee. The Council has agreed that it is not necessary to make an appointment to replace Professor Vira, as the remaining membership continues to provide sufficient diversity from all perspectives. The Council will keep the membership under review up to the point at which candidate names start to be considered, particularly if there are any further changes in membership.

Cambridge University Endowment Fund: Open meeting on 31 January 2022

Staff and students of the University and the Colleges are invited to an open meeting on the University's Endowment Fund, hosted by Tilly Franklin, CEO and Chief Investment Officer of the Cambridge University Endowment Fund (CUEF), on 31 January 2022 at 12.05 p.m. via a Teams Live Event. The CUEF's purpose is to provide financial support for the University's research, teaching and other activities. The Fund holds and invests donations made to the University, some of its Colleges and charitable trusts associated with the University, as well as other long-term capital. The open meeting will include an update on the CUEF, an interactive panel discussion with the Fund's manager, Cambridge Investment Management Ltd, and an opportunity for the audience to ask questions. Further information on the event and how to attend is available at <https://www.cambridgeinvestmentmanagement.co.uk/>.

REPORTS

Report of the General Board on the establishment of a Professorship

The GENERAL BOARD begs leave to report to the University as follows:

1. The General Board recommends the establishment of a Leverhulme International Professorship, as set out in paragraph 2 below. The funding arrangements for the Professorship were approved by the Chair of the Resource Management Committee on behalf of the Committee on 18 January 2022.

2. The Board has accepted an academic case from the Council of the School of the Humanities and Social Sciences for the establishment of a Leverhulme International Professorship of Neuroeconomics for Professor Peter Bossaerts for a single tenure from 1 October 2022, in the Faculty of Economics. The Board supports the establishment of Professorships where funding has been secured towards the recruitment of research leaders in a prestigious, external competition such as the Leverhulme Trust International Professorship Award. The Leverhulme Trust Board has agreed to offer the University of Cambridge a Leverhulme International Professorship grant over five years for Professor Bossaerts, currently Professor of Experimental Finance and Decision Neuroscience at the University of Melbourne. This appointment serves the Faculty's strategy to expand its interdisciplinary profile in terms of research as well as teaching. Appointing a senior professor of the profile and reputation of Professor Bossaerts to the Leverhulme Professorship will broaden and strengthen Faculty and University links with other UK institutions through Professor Bossaerts' professional connections. The appointment will also promote scientific dialogue at the highest level across the disciplines of economics, neuroscience, psychology and computer science at Cambridge. In particular, in compliance with the strategic aims of the University and the Faculty, it will create a bridge between Economics and Neuroscience and introduce a new interdisciplinary field of Neuroeconomics within the University. This emerging field aims to elucidate how the brain makes decisions, in part by using brain scanners to examine what is going through a person's mind when they are presented with complex decisions, with a focus on decision neuroscience in finance. The appointment will also support the Faculty's ongoing plan to create an M.Phil. Degree programme in Economics and Data Science.

The full salary costs of the Professorship will be met by the Leverhulme grant, with any costs arising beyond those covered by the grant to be underwritten by the Faculty, through the deployment of Faculty reserves.

3. The General Board recommends that a Leverhulme International Professorship of Neuroeconomics be established in the University for Professor Peter Bossaerts for a single tenure from 1 October 2022, placed in the Schedule to Special Ordinance C (vii) 1, and assigned to the Faculty of Economics.
